

STAT

Page Denied

STAT

Title: Problems in the Economic Construction of China's Rural Areas

Author: Yao Kung-chen ( 姚公振 )

Publisher: Yung-hsiang Yin-shu-kuan, Shanghai, April 1953 (revised edition, 1st edition, 1951)

Sponsor or

Issuing Authority: None indicated

No Pages: 270

Language: Chinese

Area of Coverage: China

Subjects Covered: Land reform and the reconstruction of the rural economy, problems of class demarcation in the rural areas, organization of mutual aid teams, mechanization and collectivization of agriculture, reorganization of handicraft industries, agricultural tax, rural banking and credit, rural-urban interflow of trade

Review: Reviews Chinese Communist achievements in land reform and agriculture since 1950 and discusses the aforementioned subjects from the viewpoint of the Communist regime and from the experiences of the Soviet Union. Noteworthy chapters discussing current agricultural problems in China are those dealing with rural credit and banking, reorganization of handicraft industries, and rural-urban trade interflow.

STAT